Airliner Is Missing En Route to U.S. 44 Persons Aboard

No Canadians on Trans-Atlantic Plane Reported Last to Gander, Nfld., Airport

NEW YORK, Sept. 18 (AP).—A trans-Atlantic plane operated by Sabena Airlines of Belgium and carrying 44 persons remained unreported and overdue tonight en route from Brussels to New York.

The Coast Guard said a flying boat searching for the missing plane late today sighted three wrecks, one "apparently new," but poor visibility prevented satisfactory examination from the air or landing on a lake in the area. The search plane crew said no sign of life was seen near any of the three wrecks.

The missing plane, piloted by Capt. Jean Ester, R.A.F., and Belgian Air Force pilot, was last heard from at 3:37 a.m. as it was approaching Gander. At that time it was reported its fuel supply was sufficient to last until 10:37 a.m. With ceiling about 500 feet, the plane flew over the field once and disappeared.

A list of the 44 passengers was made available in Brussels. None were Canadians.

A Coast Guard amphibian plane searched the sea this afternoon and a half dozen others were ready to take off when weather permitted.

The plane carried 37 passengers and a crew of seven, including two hostesses. In London the Press Association said most of the passengers were American and Belgian businessmen.

Capt. Budington Merrill said when he arrived here this morning with his T.W.A. Paris-New York plane that his take-off from Gander was delayed 40 minutes because the Belgian plane was making contact with the Gander tower. When the Belgian plane did not land, Capt. Merrill said, his flight was released and he saw no trace of the plane.

To Discuss Willows By-Law

Council to Consider Measure Today

City Council today will discuss a by-law for sale of the Willows fair grounds, it was learned at the City Hall yesterday.

Although the by-law has been prepared up to last night the name of the prospective purchaser and the amount being received had not been included.

Unless a new offer is made this morning it is reported the property will be recommended for sale to the B.C. Turf and Country Club for $120,000.

It is understood that the name of the purchaser was withheld from the by-law in the hope that a rumored last-minute bid might be forthcoming before the council meeting, probably from the Colwood Park Racing Association Ltd.

After approval by the council the by-law must be submitted to a vote of ratepayers. It specifies that funds from the sale will be placed in the fund for construction of the Memorial Arena.

Yugoslav Catholic Head Arrested by Tito Regime

BELGRADE, Sept. 18 (AP).—Marshal Tito's Government announced today the arrest of Archbishop Alojzije Stepinac, head of the Roman Catholic Church in Yugoslavia, and began preparation of an indictment to bring him to trial next week on charges of "crimes against the people."

The trial of 18 persons—12 of them Roman Catholic priests—on charges of collaboration with the Ustachi, wartime terrorist organization of the Croatian regime, was halted by the public prosecutor when a prosecution witness linked the archbishop with aid of Dr. Ante Pavelic, puppet Croatian Premier still sought by the Government.

Main defendant in the trial is Col. Eric Lisak, chief of security police under Cretnik General Draza Mihailovic, recently executed for war crimes.

Ivan Schalic, secretary to the archbishop, testified that Lisak, who returned to Yugoslavia illegally after the war to organize Ustachi bands in the anti-Government "cruiser movement," spent a night at the prelate's house, and that the crusader flag had been blessed in the archbishop's chapel.

The secretary testified that "the archbishop's castle in Zagreb was the centre of Ustachi, crusader and terrorist action."

The archbishop was attacked several months ago by the Zagreb newspaper Vjesnik, which accused him of collaboration.

Ten Injured As Bus Tips

STANDARD, Alta., Sept. 18 (CP).—Quick-thinking by an 11-year-old boy was credited with saving the lives of 23 companions and the driver when he threatened an overturned school bus two miles west of here today. Nine children and the driver were injured.

The bus plunged from the highway, ripped through a ditch and overturned twice before coming to rest upside down against a fence 80 feet away.

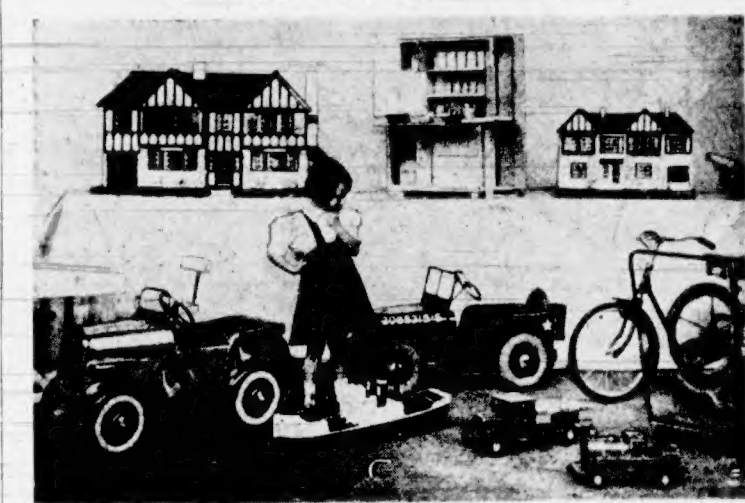

Wrecks of smoke were coming from the ignition when the boy, Gordon Grant, fought his way through the scramble of bodies to the driver, Arthur Grant, who was pinned between the steering wheel and the driver's seat. Gordon managed to release him and Grant pulled out the wires.

The turnkey sheepishly vowed it would be "a long time before a prisoner gets a drink from me."

Transit Officials Visit Nanaimo

NANAIMO, Sept. 18.—W.C. Mainwaring, vice-president of the B.C. Electric, accompanied by several executives of the B.C. Electric and Blue Line Transit Co., which B.C.E.R. recently purchased, were in Nanaimo today to inspect Blue Line equipment and lay plans for future improvements. They consulted with Mayor G. Muir and other council members.

"Now Which One Shall It Be . . . ?"

Brenda Dawson, three, of London, England, devotes some profound thought to a pleasantly perplexing problem as she looks over toys rarely seen in Britain's shops since before the war. Unfortunately for Brenda, she can only do some wishful thinking because these toys, made by a British firm, have been accepted for the "Britain Can Make It" exhibition opening at the Victoria and Albert Museum, London, on September 24, for the purpose of displaying the variety and quality of Britain's products.

Two City Polio Cases Confirmed But Little Fear of Epidemic Held

There are two confirmed cases of infantile paralysis in Victoria, Dr. J. L. Murray Anderson, medical health officer, announced last night. Both have been under observation since last week-end in the Royal Jubilee Hospital.

One case is a five-year-old Victoria boy who has not been outside of Victoria. The other is a 15-year-old girl, who was in Alberta within the past two weeks.

Health authorities are checking all close contacts and quarantining some.

School health officers and nurses are keeping a wary eye on all symptoms which resemble poliomyelitis. Dr. Anderson said there would be no move to close schools or impose any other restrictions at the present time.

Australia to Vancouver Plane Service Begins

VANCOUVER, Sept. 18 (CP).—The forerunner of a fortnightly trans-Pacific service between Sydney, Australia, and Vancouver, was completed today as the Australian National Airways Skymaster Warana settled on the tarmac at the Vancouver airport after a 5,348-mile flight.

The big four-engine plane, carrying 33 passengers and a crew of nine, made the cross-ocean flight in 40 hours and 17 minutes actual flying time with stops along the route at the Fiji Islands, Honolulu and Oakland, Cal. The plane left Sydney, Monday, landing at Oakland after a 36-hour uneventful flight.

At the airport, a crowd of 1,000 greeted the passengers and crew, and present were Reconstruction Minister E. H. J. Symington, president of Trans-Canada Airlines, and Mayor J. Cornett, of Vancouver.

The inaugural flight was termed "easy and exceptionally good over water" by Cmdr. P. T. L. Taylor, flying superintendent of A.N.A. and pilot.

"I look forward to more constant service in the future," he told the welcoming crowd.

The passengers included several Australian war brides, and sweethearts of American servicemen, bound for the United States. They were not permitted to land in the United States, and tonight were en route south again via plane to Seattle.

Capt. Edgar C. Johnston, deputy director of civil aviation in Australia, was aboard the plane on a mission to arrange an agreement with United States authorities for reciprocal landing rights.

The two hostesses, Miss Joan Hitchens and Miss Iris Dorroch, of Melbourne, had only one complaint—lack of sleep. But snoring in Honolulu and a three-hour siesta in Fiji made up for it all.

There's Gold at Muncho Lake But It's Only "Fool's Gold"

While snow still lay deep on the ground, reports from Fort St. John early last Spring told of a big concentration of miners and prospectors there in preparation for a trek to Muncho Lake on the Alaska Highway, where a new Eldorado was said to have been located by a truck driver working on the highway.

But those who face the rigors of the north country to search for gold won't find any at Muncho Lake—at least not at the spot where the truck driver was reported to have made the sensational discovery that was front page news some months ago.

At the time the strike was first reported, Provincial Mines Department officials refused to join in the general excitement, after cast doubt on the existence of gold in that area because of the known geological structure. Now, in a report issued yesterday, they say samples have returned "nil" assays in gold or silver.

Held by the Alcan Prospecting and Developing Syndicate, the property was examined recently by one of the department's engineers. His report says the discovery was found to consist of small scattered occurrences of sulphide mineralization in a zone of silicified limestone.

The silicified zone contains a good deal of quartz in stringers and irregular masses," the report states. "The sulphides are pyrite and chalcopyrite."

"That, in non-technical language, is the 'fool's gold' that has fooled many a greenhorn prospector. Although all samples returned 'nil' assays in gold or silver, one assayed 95 per cent copper; another 8.7 per cent."

A detailed report on the property has been prepared by the Deputy Minister, Department of Mines, Victoria, for distribution to those who ask for it.

Tax Protester To Appeal Case

SASKATOON, Sept. 18 (CP).—Russell Rogers Smith, Saskatoon today was preparing to appeal a magistrate's ruling which convicted him of failing to make out an income tax return for the year 1945.

After Magistrate B. M. Wakeling had fined him $25, Mr. Smith said he intended to carry his case to the highest court.

Smith based his refusal to file income tax returns on the basis that the Dominion of Canada had no legal existence, contending that the B.N.A. Act was ultra vires and that the Statute of Westminster, 1932, made this doubly evident.

Wallace Pledges Silence

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18 (AP).—President Truman tonight obtained from Commerce Secretary Wallace a pledge of silence, while keeping him in the Cabinet, and promptly rushed out a reassurance that the United States has no idea of attacking Russia.

Mr. Wallace, in a letter made public Tuesday, said "a school of military thinking" advocated a preventive war on Russia before the Soviets have atom bombs. Mr. Wallace denounced such thinking.

Mr. Truman took two decisive steps in short order late today.

1. He arranged for a gag on Mr. Wallace for the duration of the Paris Peace Conference.

2. He got from War Secretary Patterson and Navy Secretary Forrestal a joint letter completely disavowing any such "thinking" as Mr. Wallace referred to and had his aides release it to newspapermen immediately without comment.

The Commerce Secretary said he had made the decision not to make any public statements or speeches until the Paris party ended because "the President is very confident of peace with Russia."

Mr. Wallace made plain that he was sticking to his foreign policy views though silenced for the time being. Asked whether he stood on his Madison Square Garden speech of last Thursday, which conflicted in many ways with the policies of Mr. Byrnes, he replied: "Absolutely."

Free Cornish From Hospital In Two Weeks

Barring unforeseen complications, Constable Stanley Cornish, city traffic policeman who was shot in the abdomen July 29 while attempting to apprehend the driver of a stolen automobile, will be released from the Royal Jubilee Hospital in 10 days or two weeks, hospital authorities said yesterday.

Seventeen-year-old John Beisen, Brentwood, was remanded until Wednesday when he appeared in city police court yesterday on a charge of attempted murder in connection with the shooting of the officer. Claude L. Harrison, city prosecutor, said he will ask for a further remand at that time so that Constable Cornish will be able to testify at the trial.

The constable is progressing "very satisfactorily at present and I have no doubt that he can be released in two weeks time," his doctor stated last night.

British Fleet Off to Greece

ATHENS, Sept. 18 (AP).—The British Mediterranean Fleet, including four cruisers and the aircraft carrier Ocean, would visit Greek waters twice within the next four weeks.

Red, White and Yellow Lines Mark New Traffic Zones in City

Distinctive red and white blocks painted on the curb in several parts of the business district now mark new bus loading and unloading zones provided for in the recently revised city traffic regulations.

Zones so marked include one on Broad Street, just north of Yates Street, and another on Pandora Avenue west of Douglas Street. Painting of other zones in the downtown area is proceeding. Chief of Police J. A. McElellan said yesterday.

Neither distinguishing color, as yet not decided, will mark all commercial zones established in the city. Prohibited parking areas will still be shown with the usual yellow-painted curb, the chief stated. Colors chosen have depended to a

Princess Kathleen Reconversion Job Awarded to V.M.D.

Repair Work to Cost More Than $1,000,000 Ship to Be Ready for Next Summer Season

Second major contract let to a Victoria shipyard within a week has been awarded to the Victoria Machinery Depot Co. Ltd., calling for conversion of the Princess Kathleen for peacetime service at a cost in excess of $1,000,000. Capt. O. J. Williams of the B.C. Coast Service of the C.P.R., announced last night.

Capt. Williams said the Kathleen had been promised in time for operation next Summer. H. S. Hammill, general manager V.M.D., thought the Kathleen would be fitted out by late Spring.

The Princess Kathleen as She Returned From the War

Mr. Hammill stated that "no appreciable number of men would have to be added to present crews for the job," which is believed to be the largest passenger ship reconversion task ever handled in B.C. An estimate of the cost at approximately $1,500,000 was given by Mr. Hammill.

The Kathleen will be taken to the V.M.D. plant this morning where the work of removing armor-plate will begin almost immediately. Main conversion work will be the rebuilding of the cabin, which gave way to lengthy dormitories for troop transporting. Joiner work, pipefitting and electrical work will take the most time.

"We are very pleased to have the work as it keeps continuity of employment in our plant," Mr. Hammill said last night.

The V.M.D. plant now employs 900 men, which the general manager believes will be sufficient for the new contract.

Employment of an additional 400 workers was anticipated last week at Yarrow's for work on the $3,000,000 passenger ship for Canadian National Steamships. She will be the largest passenger ship ever constructed on Canada's Pacific Coast.

Federal Cabinet Expected To Act on Farm Strike

OTTAWA, Sept. 18 (AP).—A terse "no comment" on all sides was the sole Government reaction today to the 12-day-old Alberta farm strike but there was a growing belief that the matter would receive immediate Cabinet attention when Agriculture Minister Gardiner and Finance Minister Laidlaw returned to the capital Friday.

At Halifax, Mr. Gardiner, who arrived today from Europe on the Queen Mary, said he would have to view the situation before making a statement.

He noted, however, that in regard to the farmers' demands for a board to study partly returns against production costs, such as the function of the Agricultural Prices Control Board established in 1945.

Meanwhile, there also was no indication here as to the effect outside of the immediate strike area of the refusal of the 30,000 striking farmers to deliver their produce to market.

However, it was recalled that before the strike began one Government spokesman said the non-delivery action would affect export rather than domestic supplies. At the same time on one of the West's main commodities—wheat—there is believed to be enough in the elevators of Manitoba and Saskatchewan to keep up deliveries.

The strike-created shortages of meat, eggs and cream seemed to be centered mainly in the strike areas themselves.

Up to now, the striking Alberta farmers number some 20,000 out of the approximately 290,000 farmers operating in Western Canada. If they are joined by another 35,000 Saskatchewan producers to whom a strike call also has been directed, that will mean that approximately 55 per cent of all Prairie farmers will be in the dispute.

Logger Killed At Ladysmith

LADYSMITH, Sept. 18.—George R. Davis, 42, was instantly killed today in the Comox operations near Ladysmith when he was crushed between a swinging log and a spar tree.

He is survived by his wife, a son, Raymond, and a daughter, Marie, of Bayview Road, Ladysmith. An inquest will be held.

Farm Strike Gains Momentum Pickets Convicted and Fined

EDMONTON, Sept. 11 (CP)—Seven pickets at Westlock who allegedly prevented loading of cream and eggs on a train at Atvella, 40 miles northwest of Edmonton, today were convicted and each fined $20 and costs as the 12-day-old Alberta Farmers' Union strike gathered momentum.

A report from Peace River said more than 100 farmers in the Peace River area voted to give full support to the strike for 30 days at a mass meeting.

The ranks of packing house workers laid off because of the delivery strike were swelled today with a report from Regina that 50 men at the Burns Co. packing plant there had been given lay-off notices. Twenty-five others were laid off today, and with the new order 75 will be out by next Wednesday.

Burns Co. official at Regina reported livestock receipts had dropped 50 to 55 per cent of normal, and egg and poultry receipts had dropped to 35 per cent within the last week in Southern Saskatchewan.

Four packing plants in Edmonton last week laid off 1,200 men due to the lack of farm deliveries.

In Saskatchewan a new call was issued by the United Farmers of Canada to 35,000 farmers to support the A.F.U. demands for Federal establishment of parity between farmers' costs and returns.

Milk deliveries were reported normal at Edmonton, Lethbridge and Medicine Hat, but a report from Calgary said a reduction of 25 per cent in deliveries had been reported there by one creamery. One downtown coffee shop refused customer cream for their tea or coffee because the strike had cut off its supply.

Eggs and livestock deliveries continued light at Edmonton, with cattle receipts at 47, calves 18 and hogs 43. There were no sheep. Stockyard reports said trading was brisk with prices firm on the light receipts.

Meanwhile Edmonton headquarters of the A.F.U. reported "quite a few new locals have been formed in the last few days," and one official said they were three weeks behind filing new membership applications, some of which had come from Manitoba and British Columbia.

In Northern Alberta most of the 24 creameries operated by the Northern Alberta Dairy Pool were reported closed, and at Grande Prairie in the Peace River block only one meat market was open due to lack of supplies. Restaurants in the North also felt the pinch and were unable to serve cream or milk. Some reported "no eggs."

At Red Deer, milk was still being delivered only to customers who had children under three, and two hospitals and needy cases.

Jury Acquits Ontario Man Second Time

WHITBY, Ont., Sept. 11 (CP)—A verdict of acquittal was returned tonight by the jury trying Lorne Cecil Harris, 23, for the second time on a charge of murder in the strangling of Mrs. Audrey Lyons, 23, at her home in nearby Ajax last November 10.

At the first trial last year Harris was convicted and sentenced to hang. The present trial was ordered after the Ontario Appeal Court quashed the first conviction on a point of law concerning the judge's address to the jury.

Harris, a laborer from nearby Ajax, had been arrested on the murder charge after the body of Mrs. Lyons, mother of two young

Super-Poisons Are Described

SCHENECTADY, N.Y., Sept. 11 (AP)—A science writer tonight described a new army-developed "super-deadly" poison as "one of the most devastating that one ounce could kill every person in the United States and Canada."

Dr. Gerald Wendt, editorial director of Science Illustrated Magazine, said that the poison is "an innocent-looking crystalline toxin." He estimated that seven-millionths of a gram, "a quantity too small to see," is sufficient to kill one person.

"This means," he said, "that one gram is enough to kill 7,000,000 human beings and one ounce enough to kill 180 million."

Dr. Wendt said that in the event of a third world war, the new super-poisons will be utilized to the extent that "most persons may die from silent, insidious anti-human weapons that destroy no forts, ships or cities, but can wipe out human beings by the millions."

children, was found in a bedroom in her home, strangled.

The verdict provoked a roar of applause and a wave of hand-clapping which brought stern rebukes from Mr. Justice G. F. McFarland. His Lordship declared: "That demonstration which has just taken place is a disgrace to the whole system of justice in the Dominion of Canada. It reflects no credit on the community."

Of the verdict, His Lordship said: "I have no comment to make. Harris, you have been found not guilty. You are free to go."

The courtroom was jammed as the jury foreman returned with the verdict after deliberations lasting three on one-half hours. Among the crowd was the wife of the accused. She also jumped to her feet and clapped her hands, then burst into tears.

Harris stood in the dock without change of expression as the verdict was returned. Released by the court, he threw his arms around his wife and left the courtroom with her.

A. W. Greer, K.C., defence counsel, suggested in his address to the jury that the murder actually had been a "two-man job" and he outlined 20 points which he claimed proved Harris' innocence.

School Strike Number Two At Kinnaird

KINNAIRD, B.C., Sept. 11 (CP)—The second school strike in the Kootenay district of Southeastern British Columbia began today when parents of Grades I to IV students at Kinnaird refused to send their children to a school outside the community.

(Some 225 students in six communities in the Creston area have not attended school this fall as parents demand that the Provincial Government repair roads before they allow their children to travel in buses to the school at Creston.)

The primary grade youngsters at Kinnaird were to have attended school at Castlegar Community Hall, according to orders issued by the school board of district No. 9.

Kinnaird parents, feeling that adequate school facilities were available in their community, refused to allow their children to be transported to the temporary school accommodations at Castlegar.

The decision of the school board to have the children sent to Castlegar for schooling was a surprise, a Kinnaird resident said today, explaining that at a recent meeting between parents, Trustee Cyril Bell and School Inspector C. E. Clay, it

As Labor Convention Opens in Windsor

Bengough Says Foreign Loans Will Cause Inflation in Canada

WINDSOR, Ont., Sept. 11 (CP)—The 81st annual convention of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada got under way today with opening formalities staving off the more controversial and fundamental issues which may divide the convention at a later stage.

The convention, expected to last 10 days, had attracted record attendance. Some 900 delegates were registered late last night with actual attendance, including families and observers, far exceeding the 1,000 mark.

Shortly after the convention opened Percy R. Bengough, of Ottawa, declared in his presidential address his intention to block any interference with the autonomy of the organization. His remarks were obviously directed at the American Federation of Labor with which international unions connected with the T.L.C. are affiliated in the United States.

Mr. Bengough's remarks gave new emphasis to differences between the two organizations which have been centred in relationship of the International Association of Machinists, The machinists' union was recently expelled from the A.F.L. for non-payment of dues. The had been understood that school classes would be held in Kinnaird Community Hall.

The school trustees' objections against the use of the hall as a school were that heating, lighting and toilet facilities were not adequate.

However, it was stated, the men of the community had voluntarily made improvements to the building, and parents were satisfied that it would be adequate until a new temporary school is built on a three-acre area which had been purchased at Kinnaird.

It was understood that plans for the new school have been sent to Victoria for approval of the Department of Education.

Another objection that the Kinnaird parents have against sending their children to Castlegar is that the primary grades there are being conducted along a shift system.

Under the system Kinnaird children between Grades I and IV would attend classes between the hours of 9 a.m. and 1 p.m. There would be no luncheon period and the parents feel that it is asking too much to have their children wait until after 1 p.m. before getting a meal.

Twenty Aircraft Crash Victims Honored in Mass Funeral Rites

ESTEVAN, Sask., Sept. 11 (CP)—Mass funeral services were held at Estevan airport today for 20 of the 21 R.C.A.F. personnel who died in the crash of an R.C.A.F. Dakota aircraft at Estevan airport Sunday.

Regiment High Mass was held in St. John the Baptist Church this morning, followed by the mass funeral ceremony at the airport. Twenty flag-draped caskets rested on seven air force trucks in the drill hall where the services were conducted, and many floral tributes were placed at intervals in the solemn setting.

Funeral prayers and benediction of the Lutheran Church ritual were followed by a Roman Catholic service with the prayers for the dead and the communal service and benediction.

"Nearer My God To Thee" was played by the air force band as the funeral procession formed.

The funeral party boarded buses for the assembly point in Estevan, and the cortege of cars stretched for a distance of nearly four miles.

Each of the seven trucks carrying the caskets was escorted by a separate escort party. Decoration awards, won by the dead airmen, were carried on a purple cushion by a fellow officer. The band with draped drums played "The Dead March in Saul," as the procession proceeded by slow march to the railway station. Crowds lined the streets for blocks and all places of business were closed.

Led by their teachers, public school children were assembled at various points. Members of Estevan branches of the Canadian Legion, and Legionnaires from nearby American towns were in the procession.

The "Last Post" was sounded at the railway station followed by three volleys by an R.C.A.F. firing squad.

The body of P.O. F. H. Cowan, wartime bomber pilot of City of Hamilton Squadron, was sent by plane to Ottawa for burial.

L.L.O. Director

Edward J. Phelan, who has been acting director of the International Labor Office since 1941, has been appointed director of the 89th session of the governing body of the I.L.O. in Montreal. The international labor conference opening in Montreal on September 19 will be the first held in Canada.

American Explorers Found Safe Lured by Gold in Nahani Valley

WHITEHORSE, Y.T., Sept. 11 (CP)—A party of three Americans, headed by James Watt, of Yakima, Wash., nine days overdue on an exploration trip into the mysterious Nahani Valley, is safe at Watson Lake, police reported here tonight.

A report to the Whitehorse Division of the R.C.M.P. said that Watt, a Yakima school teacher, and geologist, his wife and brother-in-law, arrived at Watson Lake Tuesday night.

All are in good health, but no other information was contained in the report.

The lure of gold sent the Americans to the little-known Nahani of "Headwaters" Valley, where 13 white men are reported to have disappeared in the last eight years.

A story of gold lying free on the ice in the far reaches of the Northwest Territories was told Watt by a veteran Northern prospector.

Watt and his wife, Beatrice, and her brother, Edward Rose, headed for the valley which has produced many an Indian legend, telling of the death of white prospectors and travelers in its mysterious wilds.

The party took off from Watson Lake, in Northern British Columbia, on the Alaskan highway, in July, fears for its safety were expressed when Watt failed to report for the opening of the school term at Yakima.

They had told friends they were going to the southern edge of the valley in a search for precious metals after listening to a tale of gold in a creek the pioneer prospector named "Borden's Creek."

It was not known here if they actually entered the valley, held in fear by Indians of far Northern tribes.

Police at this Northern outpost were prepared to start a search for the Americans last night when news of their safety reached here.

MANCHESTER, England (CP)—W. T. Thompson, corn merchant, who left £25,000 ($100,000) directed that his funeral expenses should not exceed £10 ($40).

Three District Men Receive Award for Promoting Drama

Two Victorians and a resident of Oak Bay were named here last night among 19 recipients of the Canadian Drama Award for outstanding work in promoting Canadian drama.

In the list released by Major L. Bullock-Webster, honorary organizer, were Stewart G. Clark and H. J. S. Reynolds, and Major William Taylor, of Oak Bay.

Selection of the 19 award winners was made from 124 recommendations received from eight provinces.

A Mohawk Indian, Ka-jew-was, whose Anglicized name is Thomas Cook, was the only American honored. His home is in Ticonderoga, N.Y.

ADMIRAL IS GUEST

Rear Admiral R. E. Mainy, commanding officer Pacific Coast, was guest of honor at a social evening of the Esquimalt Dockyard Branch of the Canadian Legion last night.

Capt. C. D. Donald, captain of the dockyard and honorary president of the Dockyard Legion, also attended the meeting.

President Joseph E. Downey was chairman of the evening.

HONOR CIVIL SERVANT

P. D. Walker, senior member of the British Columbia Civil Service, and deputy provincial secretary, last night received a gold watch at an informal banquet in Vancouver on the occasion of his retirement.

Mr. Walker, one of four Canadian Members of the Imperial Service Order, began his career in 1907, and held his present post since 1928.

TO VISIT ISLAND

Lord Inverclyde, director of the British Sailors' Society, arrived at Halifax yesterday aboard the Queen Mary to begin a Dominion-wide tour during which he will inquire into the position of sailors' hostels in Canada.

Accompanied by a Scottish organizer, Rev. W. Martin, he will journey to Toronto and then to Winnipeg, where a luncheon will be tendered by Premier Garson and Chief Justice Major, then to Regina, Edmonton, Vancouver, Victoria and Port Alberni.

The return trip will include a visit to Calgary.

Divided Canada Cannot Develop Mayhew Informs Laurier Club

Canada cannot develop if it remains a house divided against itself, R. W. Mayhew, M.P., told members of the Laurier Club during a luncheon meeting yesterday at Terry's dining-room. He reviewed the past session of Parliament.

Premier John Hart was a guest. Reviewing the inter-provincial conference he explained the numerous attempts to draft proposals later discarded to avoid the allegation that the Dominion "was waving the big stick." It was almost impossible to make any definite proposals without this charge being laid, he said.

During the industrial and labor unrest of the past few months the industrial relations committee had done useful work, but not as much as might have been desired.

"If it had only been able to get across to the public the naked facts of labor and industry, the people themselves would have made the decision to go ahead," he said.

If Canada is to stop inflation "somebody has to accept the squeeze," Mr. Mayhew said. The burden, however, should not be borne by any particular group, but shared equally by all. Every citizen should do his part to avoid encouragement to higher prices and black markets, he said, warning that the struggle against inflation was as much war as that against Hitler.

EXPRESSING CONFIDENCE LABOR WILL HELP

Mr. Mayhew said he had great confidence that labor was just as ready to do its part as management, and pointed out that those who will suffer most if inflation continues are people retired on pensions or life savings, "who have worked their allotted span."

The Government's housing program was designed to reverse the trend of congested living in large cities, to provide better homes in rural areas, and "to build homes in areas where the jobs are and not where they are not."

Outlining the Dominion budget, Mr. Mayhew stressed the increase in appropriations for the benefit of veterans and told of the large funds set aside for housing, demobilization, grants to U.N.R.R. and loans to Britain.

Defending the continuation of foreign exchange control regulations, he pointed out that Canada still has to husband American dollars to purchase goods essential to the Canadian economy. Every country in the

Striking Is Second Best Action MacInnis Says in Speech Here

"The reduction in production, owing to the steel strike, is far more inflationary and detrimental to economic life in Canada than the 15 per cent wage increase being asked by steel workers," Angus MacInnis, M.P. for Vancouver East, stated in address at Woodsworth Hall last night.

"A purpose of production should be arranged so that there is no internal conflict. Striking is only the second best action," he declared.

Mr. MacInnis referred to strikes as "unintelligent actions" throughout his address, and pointed out that higher wages merely increase costs of goods, consequently the strike was hurting himself.

"We cannot improve our position by stopping production of the commodities we need," he said.

Mr. MacInnis, who has been a member of trade unions 36 years, said that trade unions would become part of the socialist government.

Mr. MacInnis referred many times during his talk to "big business" in Canada that was striving to have controls lifted before the end of the war so they could operate on big profits, regardless of the effects on the people. He said that the whims of private enterprise should not be catered to.

"The people should be joint owners and produce for the common good," he stressed.

Asked during a question period his ideas on atomic power the speaker stated it would have been better if atomic energy had never been developed because of the lack of knowledge of how to use it. He advocated international control.

With the highest enrollment in history, opening exercises for an anticipated 600 students will be held outdoors in Victoria College grounds this morning, Dr. J. M. Ewing, principal, said last night.

Inauguration of night classes and more buildings are an absolute necessity in order to care of the crowding, he stated.

Over 550 students were registered when registrations were closed Monday to allow organization of classes. At least another 50 are expected to be added when registration is resumed today. Peak enrollment for last year was 497 pupils.

Another 60 students are expected from the Tyne Road veterans' school in January.

The single army hut obtained to alleviate the crowding will not be ready for two or three weeks, Dr. Ewing said, and little success has met efforts to obtain three more which are urgently needed.

In a short address at the opening exercises this morning, Dr. Ewing will outline to students some of the problems being faced by the college. J. A. Cunningham will outline class schedules and Teddy Garner, president of the student council, will speak on student activities.

Rev. McLean Head of Children's Aid

Replacing Mrs. R. W. McInnes, Rev. J. L. W. McLean was appointed president of the Children's Aid Society at a meeting on Tuesday.

He will fill out the unexpired term of Mrs. McInnes, who has resigned.

It was reported at the meeting that the Children's Aid Society will receive 19.27 per cent of the $100,000 Community Chest objective.

ASK FOR SIRENS

Use of former air raid sirens or other means of warning is being urged by B.C. fishermen in order to inform Fraser River gillnet fishermen of the approach of freighters or other large ships in the river.

Fishermen said yesterday that the danger of small fishboats being run down by larger ships in the river channel is acute.

URGES RETENTION OF SECURITIES

Another important function of exchange control was restriction of the purchase of Canadian securities by other nations. "We don't want any more Canadian securities leaving the country than is absolutely necessary," Mr. Mayhew stated.

Rope of Canada today, he concluded, was the large number of young, energetic and trained men on all sides of the House of Commons and from all provinces. There was a greater number than ever before in history.

Chairman of the meeting was J. G. Rutland, vice-president of the Laurier Club. A vote of thanks to Mr. Mayhew was proposed by George F. Gregory. Head table guests included H. A. Collins, T. T. Pullen, A. H. Cox, H. H. Hollins and Dr. W. A. Knox.

Australia's Flight

Something of the shape of things to come in a flying era emerged yesterday when the Australian National Airways plane touched down at Vancouver, with 42 people on board, from our sister Commonwealth. The big Douglas airliner, with 33 passengers and an aircrew of 9, made the Pacific crossing in good form, with a call at San Francisco before heading north to British Columbia. It is not the first Australian plane to fly the Pacific by any means, but it is the first public transport to ply directly between the two sister nations in civilian times; and the start in so far as Australia is concerned of the Empire air service in the Pacific.

Victoria is the more interested because it is inevitable that Patricia Bay will be brought into use in this trans-Pacific service as time goes on; both directly for the handling of passengers, and indirectly when visibility is not open at the mainland terminal. It is a sign of the times that 42 individuals made the initial crossing with comfort and dispatch. Oceanic flight is comparatively new yet, but Australia is demonstrating that she will be in the forefront of whatever is done in Empire flight services in the Pacific.

The official welcome to the visiting airman and their passengers will speak for the people of Canada. The two nations were drawn close together during the war, when so many young Australians secured their selves to Canadians in all walks of life. The fact that Australia is out in front with a trans-Pacific crossing should spur Canada to its own mission in the air, which is not a little one. Flying, like other skills, only rusts in rest, and must be used to obtain its benefits. The benefits are many, and they will accrue as the world moves forward to a more settled condition everywhere. Meanwhile, this is an Australian "first," and right welcome.

Help for Esquimalt

Recognition, however slight, of Esquimalt's municipal claim to consideration by reason of Crown-invasion of its land and revenue sources on the one hand, and intensified wear and tear of its municipal equipment and highways on the other, is only just. Beyond the $12,000 grant and the return of a small gravel pit secured through the good offices of Mr. R. W. Mayhew, M.P., and Major-General G. R. Pearkes, V.C., M.P., both of whom made extended representations at Ottawa, this settlement does not appear to go. Meanwhile in the six years of the World War, Esquimalt spent many times that sum to give service that was wholly in the national interest.

Reeve-Thomas Hadfield makes an excellent point when he stresses the fact that Esquimalt is out in excess of $30,000 in relation to the replacement and depreciation on its roads and other fixed assets; without regard whatever to the slow and steady drain that has been imposed by the growth of tax-free lands in the area. An analysis of the taxable sources left to Esquimalt would apprise anyone of the coming results of that trend, and of the eventual breakdown in municipal government if that position is not faced and redressed.

The $12,000 grant, plus the gravel pit, will be received as a token on account. There is still need—and indeed Esquimalt's whole case rests on it—for the Dominion to estimate not only the long drain of six years of war in an area with very special circumstances, but also the year-to-year position which must accrue in the future. It stands without need of emphasis that Esquimalt is proud of the place it holds in the services of the Crown, but it should not be penalized by reason of its loyalty and good faith.

Reeve Hadfield is correct in stating that for more than a score of years this inequity has called for permanent redress, and for no mere patching-up as the present grant would imply. The municipality is in an unique position among all civic entities in Canada. It has been bled white by reason of Federal encroachment on its own domain.

Nuernberg Trials

To draw any distinction between the ethics of dropping an atomic bomb and any other kind of lethal explosive is an excuse for supporting the view that Nazi war criminals should not be hung if found guilty, as Mr. Bernard Shaw has done, is to belound an issue with needless polemics on morality. Deadly though atomic power may be and no matter how unfortunate the necessity for its introduction, in principle there is no difference between a lesser and a greater bomb. An instrument that kills twenty persons is no less reprehensible in fact than one which destroys a thousand. Ethics are not a matter of quantity.

The Nazi chieftains, upon whom sentences will probably be promulgated within the next two weeks, were tried at Nuernberg primarily because they deliberately prepared for and began a war of aggression against innocent nations. The other charges facing them, such as those of conducting atrocities, were really of lesser import. The crucial factor was the unprovoked aggressive intent, which made their actions a crime against humanity. It is the establishment of this principle of international law that may aid in restraining any future aggressor.

War is a stern business, and defending nations are forced to use whatever weapons they may devise as a protection against destruction. The fact that they succeed in out-doing the aggressor in the production of deadly instruments does not of itself create any problem of morality. All war is immoral, but the attacked has no option. It is the attacker who has the choice, and it is precisely here that the ethical point arises; which is why the Nuernberg trials were held.

It is extremely doubtful that setting the Nazi criminals free "with the brand of Cain on their foreheads," as Dr. W. R. Inge suggests, would be a practical expedient in this workaday world. Such an action would be most unlikely to cause any penitence on their part, and the rest of humanity would feel much less safe were such a precedent to be created. The suggestion loses its force, also, when exceptions are made in the case of one or two who "should be executed." This would merely raise another set of ethics by drawing yet another distinction.

Building Code

There will be general approval of any steps the Pacific Coast Building Officials' Conference, now sitting in Victoria, may take leading towards the elimination of poorly-constructed homes. This city and its environs have their share of "jerry-built" structures, which in a comparatively short time become an eyesore as well as a detriment to the buildings nearby. Under the stress of a housing shortage the temptation to rush the erection of homes and other buildings without too much regard for safety and permanence is perhaps understandable, but it is a circumstance to be deplored.

The chief defect of "temporary" homes, which invite the less meticulous contractor to scamp on materials and workmanship, is that they too often become permanent. They are, in fact, as one delegate points out, seldom destroyed, no matter what were the original intentions when they were built. So long as accommodation is scarce this remains a matter of some importance, and emphasizes the need for proper construction if adjacent houses are not to suffer through depreciation of values caused by unsightly structures.

The primary point in connection with house building, however, concerns the protection of the investment involved. In these days of high construction costs the need is all the greater that any person building a permanent home should get the fullest possible return for his outlay. A drop in real estate values to a more normal level may be expected some time in the future. This will be added to unnecessarily if the material as well as the financial aspect of a house undergoes a shrinkage in worth.

The enforcement of a building code is something that would in all probability meet with the warm approval of architects, engineers and contractors themselves. Building regulations strictly adhered to would react to their own professional advantage, and protect them against unscrupulous operators, as well as giving assurance to those to whom building a home is one of the most important steps of a lifetime.

One Foreign Policy

It is becoming fairly evident that a few men cannot make successful foreign policy, or change it. Somewhere, sometime and somehow nations have to be consulted, and it is the ultimate will of their people which alone will count. There is comfort in the thought, because we do not know of any nation whose people would vote themselves into war, either at this moment or at any other one in the visible future. Some at least of the troubles of the world today stem from the exaltation of the individual in public office until he begins to think he is the nation. History proves otherwise, and stands ready to teach that lesson should the world ever forget. The true foreign policy of every nation today is peace, and there can be no room for any other one.

Seen in Passing

Senators, like other people, sometimes speak with their tongue in their cheek. It is to be suspected that Hon. G. G. McGeer, K.C., did so the other day when he told an international convention in assembly at Victoria that stars and stripes might well be worked into one corner of the Canadian flag. There is not ground in heraldry for that, surely. If the day has come when the Union Jack, under which this nation has thrived in spite of world upheaval, should be supported by a Canadian ensign, this country will expect its origin and concept to be British.

Out of the Night

Out of the night that covers me,
Black as the Pit from pole to pole,
I thank whatever gods may be
For my unconquerable soul.

In the fell clutch of circumstance
I have not wined nor cried aloud,
Under the bludgeonings of chance
My head is bloody, but unbowed.

Beyond this place of wrath and tears
Looms but the Horror of the shade,
And yet the menace of the years
Finds, and shall find, me unafraid.

It matters not how strait the gate,
How charged with punishments the scroll,
I am the master of my fate;
I am the captain of my soul.

—WILLIAM ERNEST HENLEY.

Prince Ship

Frank M. Kelley

Canadian shipbuilders, with yards located on the Great Lakes and the Pacific coast, have been given opportunities to demonstrate how well their employees can turn out a type of vessel we, not so long ago, were told most emphatically could not be built in any part of the Dominion.

Orders for such luxury-type vessels, as they were and are termed, just had to be placed where time had already taught men the craft of superior steel-ship construction and learned them to launch creations which proved popular with the travelling public of two pre-war eras. This class of traveler was desired above the easily-satisfied sea-tripper out for a holiday. Efforts to cater to him by the shipping interests of the foremost maritime powers were responsible for the construction of the most luxurious as well as the largest and fastest liners afloat. Chief contenders were Great Britain, France, Italy and Germany. Where the race would have ended if war hadn't intervened is something to be guessed.

No better ships, it must be admitted, were ever designed, constructed and engined than came from the yards of Britain. The workmanship was in a class by itself, as anyone interested might see by comparing the construction of a British-built ship from the skin to the interior fittings with the products of shipyards in other lands.

BRITISH-BUILT SHIPS
Here on the Pacific coast, we have seen what shipbuilding craftsmanship means when associated with ships turned out by British yards, whether in Scotland, England or Ireland. Examples—the graceful-looking ferry craft plying in coastal waters and the fairly large liners like the former Empress of Japan and the motorship Ananaki, both employed in trans-Pacific services in the thirties.

Yes, well-built ships, the last word in traveler appeal and seaworthiness, came out of British shipyards. Something would have been lacking had it been otherwise. British yards had pioneered the steel ship and expanded with the industry while many shipbuilding families grew up with it. These latter knew the how and gave their best to turn out first class work and keep the orders coming. It paid.

Under all the circumstances, there were no real incentives for Canadian shipyards, during the late war, to undertake the construction of vessels. That was not because skilled workmen were lacking. Men trained in British yards were already employed and other artisans could have been brought in.

There were no yards in Canada a few years ago ready and fully equipped to undertake the construction of a "Princess" or "Prince" type of boat and guarantee a launching date, even if successful in getting a contract on a competitive basis. Plant equipment on the scale necessary would cost considerable and could not be assembled overnight. This equipment would not have been a good investment, either, without some assurance of further contracts of a like nature.

All things must have a beginning, though. That is how, due to the fortunes of war maybe, a number of Canada's present-day shipyards were in a position to tender on the construction of a "Princess" ship, badly needed by the Canadian National Steamships for the company's British Columbia and Alaska service. Made possible by the demands of war, plants are ample and men are available on both coasts of Canada to build passenger ships of a limited tonnage now.

Building this "Prince" ship at Esquimalt is the second order for luxury vessels placed in Canada. Some time ago Canada Steamship Lines ordered two vessels at a price of $2,000,000 each from a Great Lakes shipyard. These ships are said to be something like our "Princess" ships and are to be launched in 1947, if everything goes right. Building the two vessels and completing the "Prince" ship at Esquimalt should prove that Canadian yards can do a good job with craft of this type of tonnage, in which event additional orders may be forthcoming.

Main thing, now that the opportunity has arrived, is to show Canadians that shipyards of the country can build and engine a type of ferry vessel capable of rating A1 all around. The firm of Yarrows Limited, is well qualified to carry out this contract satisfactorily, and its launching will add prestige to the firm name, long associated with shipbuilding and repairs. The Esquimalt firm is deserving of congratulations from Greater Victorians on procuring a contract which must have meant close scrutiny. Yarrows deserves the cooperation of all citizens and particularly of those directly concerned. With the satisfactory completion of the contract, there is always the possibility of more to follow.

Wallace's Speech Causes British Resentment

By WENDY MACGOWAN

North American Newspaper Alliance

LONDON, Sept. 18.—(By Wire)—Great Britain is still hot under the collar because of Henry Wallace's speech on U.S. foreign policy last Thursday in New York. As a talking point over the week-end it super-seeded even the quakers' harvest and coal troubles, and the celebration of the Battle of Britain.

For once the British people are forgetting to be polite in their comment on American pronouncements and are being outspoken in their condemnation of what they consider the chiseling activities of American politicians against the British national reputation. High and low, they condemn Wallace's speech as likely still further to endanger world peace over which the Damoclean sword of Russian policy seems already suspended.

One political expert with considerable experience in foreign affairs, said: "We're accustomed now to violent swings in American political opinion on foreign policy, which often seems to change radically overnight, but to try to foment further dissension between America and ourselves at this delicate stage of world negotiations seems positively criminal. Wallace's pronouncements have put a wonderfully effective bludgeon in the hands of Russia, which already seems to have enough weapons for countering any attempts to create a settled united world front."

"Even if it is only electioneering, as seems likely, it will weaken both British and American arguments at the Paris conference table. If this is the contribution of the Democratic Party to world easement, I for one, and many others, hope fervently that the Republicans will come into power in America—and it can't be too soon for us."

The bitterest barb is found in Wallace's gibe at British imperialism. British wrath over this is unbounded. Their national sense of humor is definitely in abeyance this time, and they're taking the accusation seriously.

A businessman just returned from the Middle East said: "It's scandalous to bring out the old shibboleth of British imperialism. I've just come back from Egypt, out of which we are clearing as rapidly as possible. We have given India port clearance to sail for complete independence. We are getting out of the entire Middle East and Indonesia. We are trying to pull out of Greece without leaving behind a situation of lawlessness and anarchy caused by the withdrawal of troops. As for the Dominions, long years since they attained complete independence and separate nationhood.

"Palestine" The Lord knows we have asked America often enough to share the responsibility with us."

Act administration in Victoria is in good hands and is deserving of commendation from those veterans who have benefited by its efforts.

OVERSEAS PARCELS

Sir—Relative to your article today entitled "Gift Parcels," it seems necessary to point out that Canadian postal officials especially up-country are uninformed of the British Board of Trade ruling in this matter, and are completely unaware of the high-handed action of that authority in confiscating parcels if exceeding their allotted quota, and passing them to persons totally unknown to the donors in Denmark and Holland, as is proved by numerous letters of complaint in The London Daily Telegraph.

A storm of complaints from the Dominions overseas has led, it is understood, to strong official protests being sent to London, and the home papers are full of criticism of departmental action which would put a postman in gaol.

It would be interesting to know by what "ukase" a parcel— which is post office property in trust until delivered to the consignee—can be seized by another department, but that will elucidate one hopes hopes when Parliament meets for the Autumn session in Westminster.

The arbitrary ruling of "one parcel to one address per month" is harsh and unreasonable, as that address might house in one case a bachelor, and in another a family of six. In my particular case, I forwarded food parcels to a family of three and they need them badly.

Stump orators are making capital of Wallace's words, asking their listeners what right America has to use imperial tactics in China, and also dragging in the shopworn topics of the treatment of Negroes and the wiping out of the American Indians.

Even Cockney omnibus conductors are joining in the hue and cry. Yesterday, on a bus going toward Parliament Square, a woman asked for a destination which is well known to all Londoners as a Communist hotbed. The conductor rebuffed her gently: "No, no, lady, we aren't going to Russia. This is a British imperialist bus and we're going to the Houses of Parliament."

Above all, the British people are angry and heartily sick of the continuous sniping of "types" like Elliott Roosevelt and Louis Adams against their national heroes, Winston Churchill and Field Marshal Montgomery.

Several persons reported hearing a meadowlark singing loudly near the flagstaff in Beacon Hill Park on Tuesday afternoon. Generally the melodious birds are heard only in the Spring. Perhaps it was a sign of a mild Winter. . . . There are a large number of vacant army buildings on the former golf course at Macaulay Point. Perhaps the city could borrow them for emergency accommodation instead of taking over the Colwood Camp, which is miles from the city and near no stores.

United States pointed out to Postmaster-General Ernest Bertrand that the new Canadian 50-cent stamp portraying a logging scene showed a tree about to fall on a logger. The Postmaster-General explained the stamp was designed from a photograph, and the tree actually fell nowhere near the logger. Collectors also claimed the new eight-cent stamp bearing a farm scene showed a plough throwing furrows to the left instead of the right in the customary manner.

The Postmaster-General replied that left-handed ploughs were used extensively in Quebec. . . . Britain has enjoyed relative tranquillity in sharp contrast to Canada and the United States in the first full year of peace. Reconversion to peace time economy is proceeding slowly without critical or crippling disputes in the British Isles. The British Trade Union Act of 1947 established common law rights of workers in the Old Country because labor leaders do not want to embarrass their colleagues in the ruling Labor Party. . . . The Alaska salmon pack from 99 canneries was 3,455,753 cases compared with 4,302,895 cases from 96 canneries last year. A tree can furnish wood for 1,000,000 matches. One match can destroy 1,000,000 trees.

Anglo-American Deployments Dangerous, Says Soviet Paper

LONDON, Sept. 18 (AP)—The Soviet magazine, New Times, said today its survey of American and British troop deployments throughout the world showed there was "an ugly state of affairs dangerous to the cause of peace."

"A simple enumeration of the points where American and British troops are still located without any lawful justification would include all the continents and oceans of the world," said the magazine as quoted by the Moscow radio.

"And, wherever the troops of the Anglo-American powers set foot for the restoration of law and order, there conflict, disorders, internecine strife and armed clashes at once arise. Fighting breaks out and innocent blood is shed."

Asserting that Russia had acted quite differently by withdrawing all but occupation forces in former enemy countries, New Times said Britain and America had enlarged their bases and increased their forces abroad.

It made no reference to the large-scale demobilization carried out by the United States and Britain.

Convention Asks Vatican Envoy

QUEBEC, Sept. 18 (CP)—The Federation of Catholic Workers of Canada at its annual convention tonight passed unanimously a resolution that the Dominion Government be requested to name an official Canadian representative at the Vatican.

The resolution suggested that this be done "as soon as possible."

SENATOR DIES

After Moslem-Hindu Riot in Bombay

Stacked like cordwood, the bodies of seven Moslem men and women are shown on a truck after they had been slain in a mosque in Bombay, India, during the recent riot. The bodies are being taken from the city morgue to a burning ghat for cremation. Indian police and British police restored order and prevented greater bloodshed.

Canada's Annual Forest Drain Exceeds Growth, Says Report

COPENHAGEN, Sept. 18 (CP)—Canada is one of the few countries which came through the war with forestry in fair condition, says a report prepared for the Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations.

In a preface, Sir John Boyd Orr, F.A.O. director-general, wrote: "We are only beginning to learn how widespread and acute will be the lumber shortage. Because of delay in reconstruction and the low level of economic activity, the present actual scarcity of lumber is obscured."

"But as reconstruction gathers momentum, demand for lumber will soar, and unless new supplies are made available the gap between demand and supply will widen."

In Europe alone lumber deficits might mean 2,000,000 dwelling units in need of repair must remain uninhabitable for at least another year. Europe and the Middle East emerged from the war with a large lumber deficit and in the Far East lack of lumber for railroads, industrial installations and housing would inevitably delay attempts at economic and social rehabilitation.

"In the United States, lumber stocks have sunk to an all-time low, and the British position is worse."

The report, prepared by a working party organized a year ago after the Quebec F.A.O. conference, says that in Canada it is estimated the effective annual forest growth during the ten years ending 1942 was about sufficient to offset the annual drain, but in some of the earlier years of the period utilization was considerably below normal.

During the war the cut was increased and, with damage caused by fire and pests, probably resulted in an annual drain somewhat greater than annual growth.

With better forest management arrangements Canadian forests probably would be able to carry a rate of utilization 20 per cent or more above the prewar rate, the report continues.

"Large programs of work on Canadian forest improvement and rehabilitation projects are now being started."

Searchers Find Wrecked Plane Near Seattle

SEATTLE, Sept. 18 (AP)—Bodies of seven men were found tonight in an area of tangled wreckage of a naval PBV plane but darkness hampered search for the eighth man aboard when the plane hopped from Whidbey Island, in Puget Sound, on a 30-minute flight to Seattle, during a rainstorm Monday.

The bodies were left at the scene, in the wooded foothills of the Cascade Range some 45 miles northeast of here, and guards were posted pending resumption of the search at daybreak.

Thomas Runty, a Granite Falls high school boy who was one of the party which found the plane, said they saw but one body, near the plane, an open parachute nearby.

He said wreckage was strewn 200 to 300 feet down hanging in the trees, after the plane hit and slid down a hillside in the Cascade foothills, 12 miles northeast of Granite Falls.

The plane was lost in a rainstorm on a flight from Sandpoint Naval Air Station to Whidbey Island.

Palestine Jewry Begins Campaign

JERUSALEM, Sept. 18 (AP)—Palestine Jewry tonight launched its own campaign against fanatical underground violence amid reports from Arab sources that a private Arab army believed to number 25,000 had been offered to the Arab Higher Executive "to fight Jewish terrorism with all our strength."

The Holy Land's Jews appeared to be marking time for a new policy course which a well-informed foreign observer said would be a "masterfully planned manoeuvre to gain more favorable public opinion abroad and clear the way" for entering the London conference on Palestine.

There was no official confirmation, meanwhile, of a report by Arab informants that Mohamed Nimer Hauri, leader of Najada, had offered his army to the Arab Higher Executive.

C.C.F. Leader Scores Ottawa On Farm Strike

HALIFAX, Sept. 18 (AP)—M. J. Coldwell, C.C.F. leader, tonight charged the Federal Government with "trying to avoid the embarrassment of having to face the facts before the glare of Canadian public opinion" in its handling of the Western farm strike situation.

In an address prepared for delivery over a C.B.C. national network, Mr. Coldwell said the request of the farmers was simply that an independent and impartial committee be set up, representative of farmers, labor, the community and the Government, to investigate what would be a just parity price for farm products.

Such a request was "reasonable," yet the Government had refused to agree to setting up such a committee.

"One cannot help reaching the conclusion that the Government knows that such a committee would arrive at prices higher than those it is prepared to guarantee."

Canada needed planning along the lines of the Labor Government of Britain. There the Government had laid down long-range plans aimed at giving the farmer a guaranteed price for grains and other farm products. The farmer had been considered in plans for housing, health and other social services.

"The failure to plan in this way is responsible for the unrest among Canadian farmers and for the feeling of insecurity which all of them have," Mr. Coldwell said.

CO-OPERATIVE FINED.
SASKATOON, Sept. 16 (CP)—Saskatchewan Federated Co-operatives Limited was fined $2,700 in police court here today on three charges for failing to obtain a fixed price on hardware and dry goods from the Prices Board and selling hardware at a price above the ceiling.

Magistrate B. M. Wakefield said the case seemed to constitute a "flagrant disregard of regulations."

Shirley Cooper Wed At Christ Church

Christ Church Cathedral was the scene of a pretty wedding on Friday evening when Shirley Esther, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. E. Cooper, 376 Cook Street, became the bride of Alfred John Pritchard, son of Mrs. Florence Pritchard and the late Mr. J. Pritchard, of Kamloops, B.C. Rev. T. L. Leadbeater performed the ceremony, and Mr. T. Jenkins presided at the organ.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was radiant in a Queen's model street-length dress in mist blue crepe with Grecian drape and cap sleeves, black fur-fell Cavanaugh Tudor model hat with accessories to match. She carried a Colonial bouquet of gardenias, American Beauty rosebuds, and wore a pearl necklace, the gift of the groom.

Miss Nan Watson, cousin of the bride, was the only attendant, and she chose a shell pink silk jersey dress with high neckline, shirred skirt and wore a fur-fell Colonial black hat. She carried a Colonial bouquet of gardenias, Sweetheart roses, corn flowers and swansons.

Dr. Norman Wasselkow, of Vancouver, was best man, and Mr. Gordon Pritchard, brother of the groom, ushered.

Following the ceremony a pre-reception was held at the Stratheona Hotel, where Mr. Lou Lewis proposed the toast to the bride.

For a honeymoon the bride traveled in a French wool crepe dressmaker suit in wisteria shade with black accessories, and black wool broadcloth topcoat and gardenia corsage. Upon their return Mr. and Mrs. Pritchard will make their home in Vancouver.

Miss Babe Chambers, a bride-elect of this week, was honored at the tea hour when Miss Babe Reeve-Hawkes and Miss Kay Burns entertained at a miscellaneous shower recently at the home of Miss Burns on Niagara Street. Corsages were presented to the guest of honor, her mother and the mother of the groom-elect. The pretty gifts were concealed in a box decorated in Autumn colors which also formed the color scheme for the tea table, at which Mrs. J. Marson and Mrs. W. Calder presided. Miss Helen Ferguson assisted the hostesses in serving. The guests were Mrs. B. Chambers, Mrs. A. Whyte, Mrs. T. Burns, Mrs. A. Ferguson, Mrs. T. Kershaw, Mrs. J. Hickman, Mrs. J. Marson, Mrs. W. ## Bishop Sexton Officiates At Wedding in Seattle

The Bishop of British Columbia, Rev. Harold E. Sexton, read the Church of England marriage ceremony in Seattle yesterday which culminated a three-month whirlwind courtship, which started in England several years ago.

The bride was Miss Mary Markham, daughter of Sir Charles Markham, of London and Sussex, England, and Kenya, East Africa, and a niece of Rt. Hon. Anthony Eden, former British Foreign Secretary. Her mother, the late Lady Gladys Delamere, C.B.E., was mayoress of Nairobi several times before her death in 1944.

Mr. Joseph Dana Roberts, Seattle publisher, ex-state senator and former army major in military intelligence on the staff of Gen. Mark Clark, was the bridegroom.

He saw Miss Markham when attending services at Salisbury Cathedral in England during the war years. At that time he inquired her name, but could not manage to meet her. Three months ago, in Seattle, a mutual friend, Miss Melitta O'Hara, made the belated introduction.

The wedding was performed in Trinity Episcopal Church, Seattle, at 8 o'clock, and was followed by a reception at the Seattle Tennis Club.

Miss Markham's maternal grandfather is Hon. Rupert Evelyn Beckwith, chairman of the board of the Westminster Bank of England, a director of the London Northeastern Railway, owner of The Yorkshire Post and director of Reuters News Service. Her paternal grandmother, who brought her up, is Lady Lucy Markham, B.B.E., widow of Sir Arthur Markham, M.P., who now resides in London.

Bishop Sexton was asked to officiate at the wedding because of his old acquaintance with the Markham family which dates from the time when he served at the Church of St. Margaret, Westminster, England. Mrs. Sexton accompanied her husband to Seattle.

Love Isn't All For Youngsters

By ANNE HIRST

What can one say to a 17-year-old girl who wants to get married to a boy she met only a few months ago? "I have one more year of school and all this I've waited for—but now it seems unimportant. My parents want me to finish school, but we don't want to wait that long."

No two people in love want to wait for marriage—all they want is to be together. But how long will they stay together if they marry now?

They've heard of the problems of marriage. Some of their friends are already married—and separated. But can that happen to them? Indeed not! Possession alone (as they think) will bind them together for the rest of their lives. "We love each other too much ever to let anything happen!" They don't realize that their unfortunate friends said just that a little while ago.

Marriage is the most complicated of human relations. Even people of mature years fall in it. What can youngsters expect, inexperienced as they are?

Love solves many problems, yes. But love creates problems, too. The more in love two youngsters are, the more they demand perfection in each other. When it isn't forthcoming, they're frantic. They don't realize that to love is to give (it's not all receiving) and to cultivate patience, understanding and tolerance. Without these qualities, love

Fortune Emerges

Maria Feliza Pablos, 29-year-old heiress to a Mexican cattle fortune, is shown leaving Los Angeles for Reno, Nev., where she was married to Cornelius Vanderbilt, Jr., millionaire author and sportsman.

cannot live. And what girl of 17 has had time to acquire them? Even when she's mastered them as well as she can, learning to apply them to her new husband is an achievement in itself. To bring out the best in him, she must know him—his temperament, his background, his ambitions. These she can't have learned in the few weeks they've gone together.

These two should wait until the girl graduates, at least. If their love is all she claims for it, it only can grow deeper and more understanding as time passes.

Breakfast Clubs Gain Popularity

By KAY REX

Canadian Press Staff Writer

Vancouver started it. Victoria followed, and now across Canada, business girls are getting up an hour earlier to attend the monthly eight o'clock meeting of their Breakfast Club.

A downtown restaurant or hotel is usually the club's headquarters, where the girls breakfast together and listen to a speaker they have invited for the occasion, before dashing off to work.

The Credit Women's Breakfast Club in Canada is affiliated with the Credit Women's Breakfast Club of North America, popular for years in cities throughout the United States. Canadian clubs have been formed in Victoria, Chilliwack, B.C.; Winnipeg, London, Ont., Toronto and Ottawa.

The clubs in British Columbia are responsible for publication of a monthly bulletin known appropriately as The Yawn News.

Through the Breakfast Club women in offices and stores, whether dealing with retailer or consumer, may increase their knowledge and ability by attending the meetings, and through the exchange of experience and ideas prepare themselves for higher positions.

In the Toronto club, which has 75 members, the girls this Fall will have lectures on public speaking. Other early morning talks have included everything from the advantages of grooming to actual business topics.

"Boys' breakfast meetings also are held occasionally to which employers are invited.

Total yearly membership fees generally average around $4 and for the most part are paid by the girl's employer.

"After all if she is sufficiently interested to spend her time taking part in these meetings, it seems only fair that her company should pay her fee," said J. H. Suydam, manager of the firm sponsoring the Toronto club.

Tomorrow You'll Wear Elaborate Fur Coats

Fur coats with the fur more elaborately worked than ever. One of the newest means of smoothing their lines and giving them the grace of cloth is by weaving the skins, basket fashion, right up the sleeve and shoulder of the coat.

More contrasting linings, many of them detachable in the warmer coats and jackets for Winter. Subdued colors take vivid linings, bright in color or pattern, while plaids and gay colors adopt sober linings.

Green-black, a deep green that has a bluish cast. It will be smart with your black clothes this Winter, in hats and matching gloves. It is a natural leather color, and many of the hats are feathered.

Matching hats and bags, hand-crocheted of wool or of strips of felt, with metal threads run through for added decoration and formality. Hats include off-face types, turbans and stocking-crown hats with ruffled brims.

Photo-prints both for clothing and decoration. Photographs will be printed directly on sensitized cloth, and the size of patterns can be larger than they are by methods now used.

Simple dresses with glitter necklines for wear with short fur coats. With the coat on, the dress looks informal, but when the coat is removed it has great above-the-table interest.

Embroidery as a trimming on coats and suits. It's used in headings as cuffs, standing collars and on pockets. Old-fashioned soutache braids are used in the same ways.

Societies

The Gilbert and Sullivan Society will hold the first meeting of the season on Monday, September 22, in the lower ballroom at the Crystal Garden at 8 p.m. "The Gondoliers" has been chosen by the group for the presentation this season. Pins and pictures will be distributed at the meeting. Anyone wishing to join the group is welcome to attend.

The Chasteline Club met at the Y.W.C.A. recently when Mrs. Alma Keen was unanimously elected president. Others elected were, vice-president, Mrs. Edythe Holdsworth; treasurer, Mrs. Dorothy Dempster; secretary, Mrs. Dorothy Davis; refreshment convener, Mrs. Shirley Hughes; "Y" representative, Mrs. Daisy Protheroe. Mrs. Mae Groat was welcomed as a new member. New members will be welcomed into the club at the next meeting, September 25.

Mrs. F. Kermode, president, presided when the Servimus Group of the W. A. to Metropolitan Church held a meeting at her home on Oliver Street, recently. Members were reminded of the W.A. bazaar being held in their church hall on November 7. Mrs. W. H. Munie reviewed the book "Alaska Challenge," by Ruth and Bill Albee. Mrs. G. A. Heben assisted the hostess when tea was served. In October the group will hold a "Bring and Buy" meeting at the home of Mrs. E. Williams, Queen Anne Heights.

For Brides-Elect

Mrs. Jessie Burns and Mrs. Guy Hollister were joint hostesses at a shower given at the former's home, 422 Craigflower Road, in honor of Miss Muriel Mann, who is to be married this month. Those present were Mrs. Jimmie MacEay, Mrs. J. T. Mann, Mrs. Mary Jovett, Mrs. Ernie Morry, Mrs. Wally Randall, Mrs. Mary Archer, Mrs. Stella Kent, Mrs. William Gerrard, Mrs. C. Macintosh, Mrs. Lila Caldwell and Misses Gladys Jones, Jeannie Wyatt, Verna MacKay, Nancy Pearce and Kay Thornett.

Honoring Miss Doris Brooks, a September bride-elect, Mrs. G. H. St. George and Miss Dorothy Lawson entertained informally at their home on Bowker Avenue. The guest of honor was presented with several gifts accompanied by a corsage.

A miscellaneous shower honoring Mrs. John Woolgar Griffin, nee Betty Johnston, a recent bride, was given by Mrs. Gordon McIntosh, 1330 Dallas Road. Mrs. C. Johnston presided at the prettily appointed table and Mrs. C. Sanson assisted in serving. The guests were Mrs. C. Johnston, Mrs. R. Couch, Mrs. C. Wharton, Mrs. C. Sanson and Misses Cora Wharton, E. ## Seeking Second Hit-Run Driver

City police are investigating the second hit-and-run traffic accident in Victoria within the past week.

George Fallick, 932 Pandora Avenue, told police yesterday morning that while riding his bicycle through the intersection of Pandora Avenue and Quadra Street on Tuesday night he was knocked down by an old model sedan which failed to stop. Mr. Fallick was uninjured.

First hit-and-run accident to occur in this city for many months took place on Saturday night when a 78-year-old woman was injured at the intersection of Douglas Street and Hildebrand Avenue when struck by a truck which stopped but drove off before identity of the driver could be ascertained. A man subsequently surrendered to city police and has been convicted of failing to remain at the scene of an accident.

Astor—Abbott and Costello in "Little Giant."

Atlas—"The Virginian," starring Joel McCrea and Barbara Britton.

Capitol—Jennifer Jones and Charles Boyer in "Cluny Brown."

Dominion—"Johnny Frenchman," starring Paul Dupuis and Patricia Roc.

Oak Bay and Plaza—"Suspense," starring Bonita Granville and Barry Sullivan.

Rio—"Call of the Wild," starring Clark Gable and Loretta Young.

Royal—Dick Haymes and Maureen O'Hara in "Do You Love Me?"

York—"Kings Row," starring Ann Sheridan and Robert Cummings.

DOMINION Francine Rossy, celebrated Parisian stage favorite and film star of happier days, appears at the Dominion for the last time today in "Johnny Frenchman," her first—and last—British picture. We say last, because, after escaping from the Nazis in 1940, she has now returned to the French stage. In "Johnny Frenchman," which tells an exciting and vigorous story of rivalry between the Breton and Cornish fishermen, Miss Rossy plays the part of a sturdy Breton fisherman's daughter.

"Kings Row" a Best-Seller Now at York

"Kings Row" the film version of the Henry Bellamann novel, opens tomorrow at the York Theatre. Ann Sheridan, Robert Cummings, Ronald Reagan and Betty Field are starred and the featured cast is headed by Charles Coburn, Judith Anderson and Claude Rains.

The apparently humdrum small city of the American midlands, wherein all human passions and prejudices are encompassed in small space, has not often been used by the novelists or the movie makers as the locale for their product, but it has been brought to the screen in "Kings Row" in all its realism.

BANANA AND MILK REDUCING DIET

During the war there was a great shortage of bananas so that I did not speak of the banana and milk diet for reducing weight which was in considerable use ten to fifteen years ago. As the strict or faithful following of the usual reducing diet often means a disturbance of the meals of the household, the banana diet offers a pleasant and logical method of maintaining strength during loss of weight.

The banana and milk diet as outlined by Dr. George A. Harrop, Baltimore, several years ago in The Journal of the American Medical Association, answers the requirements of a safe reducing diet. A most important requirement is that it gives a feeling of satisfaction or "fullness." This sense of feeling of fullness is not always obtained by bulky food like cabbage or lettuce; this full or satisfied feeling is more often obtained by using foods containing considerable fat as fat foods require a longer stay in the stomach than other foods before they are ready to leave the stomach and enter the small intestine. For this reason Dr. Harrop stated that the banana offered a splendid food for weight reduction because it satisfied or filled the stomach yet contained practically no fat. A combination of milk and banana is simple, palatable and easily digested as the portions to be taken are easily measured and there is no worry as to the exact number of calories being taken daily.

The two ways in which the banana and milk diet are used are as follows:

Wister's "Virginian" Best-Seller of Its Day

Sonny Tufts succumbs to the Eastern charm of beautiful Barbara Britton, and in one scene gallantly struggles under the weight of her baggage. This is one of the lighter moments in Paramount's thrilling Technicolor adaptation of Owen Wister's immortal novel, "The Virginian." Arriving today at the Atlas Theatre, this stirring drama of the early West co-stars, along with Tufts, Joel McCrea and Brian Donlevy. Stuart Gilmore directed.

REGISTRATION HIGH VANCOUVER, Sept. 18 (CP)—Registration at University of British Columbia may go as high as 9,500 this year, if estimates of workers in the registration "assembly line" on the campus are accurate.

BRIGHTON, England (CP)—The amalgamation of the five Sussex coast towns of Brighton, Hove, Portslade, Southwick and Shoreham into one town 11 miles long was discussed at Brighton recently.

Refuse Approval For B.C. Claims On Military Land

Prospectors looking for gold or other minerals in the Far North of British Columbia should first familiarize themselves with the boundaries of military reserves. Otherwise they may go to a lot of trouble staking claims and spend much money rushing in to register them, all for nothing. Claims staked on military reserves will not be approved.

In a warning issued yesterday, the Provincial Mines Department draws attention of all concerned with mineral claims to an order in council of January, 1944, placing a reserve for military purposes on mile-wide strips of Crown land on either side of the Canadian Alaska Highway and the projected right of way of any of the following proposed highways:

1. From Prince George via Peace Pass to Fort St. John.
2. From Prince George via Pine Pass to Compton Creek and Dawson Creek.
3. From Vanderhoof via Fort St.

James, Manson Creek and Peace Pass to Fort St. John.

4. From Prince George via Monkman Pass to Dawson Creek.

Land lawfully held by pre-emption, purchase, lease or Crown grant, or under timber licence, is not affected by the order.

USE YOUR HANDS—AND FORGET IT!

The reason that physicians in mental institutions prescribe occupational therapy for their patients is because it is simple physical work in which the brain is used, but not to the same extent as when the patient had to earn a living. The physical work makes them excise their muscles and so they eat better, sleep better. Then, because the work requires some thought, they do not have as much time to worry about themselves.

Foreign Exchange

NEW YORK, Sept. 18 (CP)—The Canadian dollar was down 1/2 at a discount of 3 1/2 per cent in terms of United States funds in closing foreign exchange dealings today. (Ottawa Foreign Exchange Board rates 100-100 1/2 per cent discount.) The pound sterling was unchanged at $4.03 1/2.

BELL TELEPHONE ISSUE

MONTREAL, Sept. 18 (CP)—Bell Telephone Company of Canada today announced the forthcoming issue of 176,000 shares of its capital stock at $145 a share, to be offered to shareholders on record September 25, in the ratio of one share for every five shares held. Proceeds will help finance a program of expansion and improvement.

OTTAWA, Sept. 18 (CP)—Stocks of canned fruits totalled 582,251 dozen cases last July 1, compared with 490,019 on July 1, 1945 while canned vegetables were 2,480,052 dozen, against 2,373,561.

Will Redeem Shares

MONTREAL, Sept. 18 (CP)—Aluminium Ltd., announced today that it will redeem on November 20 all its outstanding 6 per cent preferred shares, having a total par value of $7,244,900, at a redemption price of $100 per share in Canadian currency, or at the holder's option in United States funds, which price includes $1.50, an amount equal to all accumulated and unpaid dividends to redemption date.

Produce More Silver

OTTAWA, Sept. 18 (CP)—Canadian output of silver amounted to 1,266,925 fine ounces in July, compared with 1,174,600 in the preceding month, and 961,348 in the corresponding month of last year, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics reported today.

For the first seven months of this year, output aggregated 7,947,138 fine ounces, compared with 7,474,904 in the similar period of 1945.

PETER WISHES HE WERE HOME

Many times when he was in trouble outside the dear Old Brier Patch Peter Rabbit has wished he were back safe and sound at home, but never had he wished it more than when he discovered who was his neighbor under the pile of fallen trees in the Green Forest. Never before had Peter been so close to Buster Bear. Never had he expected to be so close to Buster Bear. There he was so close he could reach out and touch Buster. Do you wonder that Peter wished he could shrink into nothing?

Slowly, carefully, Peter crept back the way he had come to the edge of that great pile of brush. With every step he felt a little better because each step took him a little farther from Buster Bear. His one thought was to get away from there as fast as his legs could take him. But when he had reached the edge of that big pile of brush and started to poke his wobbly little nose outside he remembered something that he had quite forgotten in his sudden fright in the discovery of Buster Bear. He remembered Hooty the Owl! Peter drew his wobbly little nose back hurriedly.

"If I ever get out of this I'll never leave home again," sobbed Peter.

It wouldn't be safe for him to go out yet. Hooty the Owl probably was sitting right where he could watch that brush pile, waiting for him to come out.

Right then and there Peter wished with all his might that he never, never had thought of leaving the dear Old Brier Patch. In his mind he could see little Mrs. Peter sitting there under the friendly brambles with nothing to fear, and he would have given anything in the world to have been right there with her. But here he was with Buster Bear lying there only a few feet behind him, and fierce, hungry Hooty the Owl just outside waiting for him. Do you wonder that Peter was quite in despair? To think of staying under that brush pile with Buster Bear, sent little chills chasing each other up and down his backbone. Then the thought of the great cruel claws of Hooty the Owl sent another lot of little chills chasing each other all over him. It really was quite awful!

"If I ever, ever get out of this I'll never leave home again," sobbed Peter under his breath. And he really meant it. He quite forgot how often he had made this very same promise to himself before. "Yes, sir," he sobbed, "if I ever get back to the dear Old Brier Patch, safe and sound I'll never leave it again. Oh, dear, what shall I do, what shall I do? I don't dare stay and I don't dare go. It is the most dreadful fix I was ever in in all my life."

Automobile Assigned Risk Plan Working Out Well in Province

Put into effect in British Columbia 18 months ago, the Automobile Assigned Risk Plan, affording an opportunity to obtain insurance to car owners whose applications have been turned down, is working out well in this province.

According to Stanley W. Taylor, British Columbia Government superintendent of insurance in Victoria, the plan is receiving co-operation from insurance companies and commissioners. Mr. Taylor was co-author of a report on the plan presented to the 29th annual meeting of the Association of Insurance Superintendents, now in session in Halifax.

As yet, statistics are not available on losses borne on motor vehicles insured under the plan, which is now in operation in all provinces except Quebec.

Originally evolved in Great Britain, where automobile insurance is compulsory, the plan was adopted in the United States about five years ago. British Columbia was selected as the testing ground for introduction in Canada by a committee of the All-Canada Insurance Federation.

It is a voluntary agreement between the companies transacting automobile liability insurance, and only becomes effective when all of them subscribe to it. The plan is not a "pool," since a company to which a risk is assigned by the controlling committee is solely liable.

While the scheme has so far forestalled legislative action to make automobile insurance compulsory in British Columbia, renewed impetus has been given by the Vancouver Traffic and Safety Council to a movement towards that end. The council began agitation for compulsory insurance two years ago, reopened its efforts last week, and has now been invited by Attorney-General Gordon S. Wanner to submit representations to the Government.

The existing assigned risk plan excludes owners or drivers who have been convicted more than once of certain traffic offences. Where risks are accepted, a surcharge of 15 per cent is added to the standard premium, with a minimum surcharge of $10.

Appeal for Return Of Bag and Money

A war veteran, with a disability and his English war bride last night appealed for the return of a brown leather handbag lost near Beacon Hill Park late yesterday afternoon. They are Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Easterbrook, 2122 Cook Street.

The large brown leather handbag contained a smaller bag in which were a change purse and wallet containing about $11. The bag was misplaced while they were sitting on a bench waiting for a street car after a walk in the park.

In appealing for the return of the bag, the couple said that the money was urgently needed.

Church Union Still Distant Bishop States

"Union between the various Protestant churches is still a long way off," Bishop Harold E. Sexton said yesterday after returning from the General Synod of the Church of England in Canada held recently in Winnipeg.

"There have been conversations only between representatives of the Church of England and the United Church of Canada relating, in the main, to the ministry, and the documents presented to the Synod in this regard are merely for the purpose of study over the next three years," he said.

"In the meantime," he added, "any suggestions will be submitted to the Lambeth Conference, comprised of all the Bishops of the Anglican Communion in 1948."

He said that the most outstanding feature of the General Synod was the visit of the Archbishop of Canterbury.

Abbott Expresses Appreciation For Welcome to Repatriates

Appreciation of the hospitality extended by the citizens of Victoria to Canadian prisoners of war from the Far East a year ago was contained in a letter from Hon. D. C. Abbott, Minister of National Defence, received yesterday by Mayor Percy E. George.

The letter was sent to Lieutenant-Governor W. C. Woodward and later forwarded to the mayor.

Mr. Abbott recalled the problems faced by his department after the conclusion of the war with Japan and the hasty arrangements which had to be made not only for repatriated Canadians but also several liberated British prisoners.

"The wonderful welcome and generous hospitality extended by the citizens of Victoria to both Canadian and British prisoners of war were such that all Canada may well be proud," he wrote.

"From the 11th of September, when the first two Canadians arrived by air at San Francisco and subsequently proceeded via the re-education arrangements in Pacific Canada to their homes in Canada, until the final movement East of the liberated prisoners of war at the end of November in 1945, all concerned, but particularly the civilians who so kindly and generously volunteered their services, made an outstanding contribution which drew praise from every quarter."

"I realize many expressions of appreciation have been made concerning the fine work that was carried out in connection with the repatriation of liberated prisoners of war. I do wish however to express, on the occasion of this first anniversary, through you to His Worship the Mayor of Victoria, to the Canadian Red Cross, the Y.M.C.A. and the Canadian Legion War Services and to the citizens of Victoria, my own appreciation for everything that was done on behalf of both the Canadian and British prisoners of war."

Body Requests Building Code

An international building code to eliminate lack of uniformity and protect the public from fly-by-night purveyors of unapproved and untested building material was urged by Hal Colling, managing secretary of the Pacific Coast Building Officials' Conference at the 24th annual convention at the Empress Hotel.

Mr. Colling said that such a project would meet opposition from a large group of varying interests who prefer to have no building codes at all. But, he added, with the co-operation of building officials from Canada and the United States, an international building code could be written.

The convention got under way yesterday with the reading of annual reports. James H. Park, of Compton, Cal., presided at the session. Delegates left in the afternoon on a motor trip to scenic points outside Victoria, and attended the Royal Colwood Golf and Country Club for a reception given by the city of Victoria.

IMPOSE SENTENCE

Henry Kilpatrick, Langford, was sentenced to six days in jail yesterday when he appeared before J. R. Saunders, J.P., in View Royal Provincial police court on a charge of creating a public mischief. The term of imprisonment was the number of days Kilpatrick had been in custody prior to his trial. Jack Rutan appeared for the defendant.

Six-Month, Three-Month Terms At Hard Labor Imposed Here

Edward A. Barker, of Vancouver, who was convicted last week of a statutory offence, was sentenced to serve six months at hard labor by Magistrate Henry C. Hall in city police court yesterday.

A sentence of three months at hard labor was imposed upon David Lawrence, who pleaded guilty on a charge of theft of a sum of money which he had collected for a C.O.D. parcel.

Pleading guilty to a charge of failing to remain at the scene of an accident, George Crooks, 2722 St. Bourne Street, was remanded until today for sentence. Crooks admitted he was the driver of a truck which struck Mrs. J. Black, 2731 Rose Street, as she alighted from a street car on Douglas Street at Hillside Avenue at 8:20 p.m. on Saturday. "I've never lost my head before and I've been through a lot during the war. But I certainly lost it that time," Crooks stated in court.

Frank Clark, proprietor of a second-hand store at 541 Johnson Street, was fined $100 or in default 30 days in jail when he pleaded guilty to failing to keep a proper record of goods which he had purchased. Detective Henry Jarvis exhibited two brass vases, stolen recently from St. Barnabas' Church, which he said the accused had purchased without a record of the name and address of the persons from whom he bought them.

Daniel E. Wilson, 430 William Street, a taxi driver, was fined $15 or in default three days in jail, when he was convicted on a charge of soliciting business from other than an authorized taxi stand. Joseph Carlow, 315 Bayview Avenue, was fined $10 or in default three days in jail when convicted of a similar charge.

"Doom Day" October 17

PASADENA, Calif., Sept. 18 (AP).—Charles O. Long, Pasadena's prophet of doom, came up today with a revised estimate on the end of the world.

It will, he says, be October 17. The 73-year-old founder of the Remnant of the Church of God acknowledged it could just as well be October 17, 1999.

Mr. Long attracted considerable attention when he predicted the world's end last September 21.

Queen Mary Ends Service As Troopship

HALIFAX, Sept. 18 (C.P.).—The giant luxury liner Queen Mary, making her final voyage as a troop and dependent ship, reached port today with a varied passenger list including 1,421 service dependents and 900 civilian passengers ranging from peers and business leaders to Cabinet ministers and members of Parliament.

Finance Minister Isley was returning from a European visit during which he attended council sessions of U.N.R.R.A. at Geneva, while Agriculture Minister Gardiner was on his way back to Ottawa from the Food and Agriculture Organization meeting in Copenhagen. They were welcomed by Premier Angus L. Macdonald.

"Canada's part in U.N.R.R.A. is an investment in world recovery which we will never forget," said Mr. Isley. "It is the greatest humanitarian effort the world ever undertook."

The minister, who attended the Paris Peace Conference, said he thought there was "considerable acrimony" in evidence there. He declined to enlarge on the point, however.

Other distinguished passengers aboard the 81,235-ton liner included Lord Catto, governor of the Bank of England; Lord Lindsay, Lord Inverclyde, director of the British Sailors' Society; Sir John Anderson, director of the Canadian Pacific Railway and Hudson's Bay Company; the Duchess of Bourbon-Parma and Princess Isabella of Bourbon-Parma. Lord Catto was to leave tonight by plane for New York where he and Lady Catto planned to see friends before going on to Washington. In the United States capital he will act as adviser to the Chancellor of the Exchequer, Hugh Dalton, Britain's representative at an organizational meeting of the International Monetary Fund and International Bank for Reconstruction.

Offers Received For Duck Block To Go to Council

Prices offered for the city-owned Duck Block at Broad and Johnson Streets in two tenders opened Tuesday will not be disclosed until the City Council meeting Thursday, Ald. R. A. C. Dewar, chairman of the lands and housing committee, stated.

It is understood the committee wishes to discuss further details of the proposed sale before a recommendation is submitted to the council.

When the sale was recommended at the last council meeting, Ald. H. M. Duggan and Ald. J. A. Worthington opposed the move. Several aldermen stated that unless a good price was obtained, the building should be retained for emergency purposes in the face of present overcrowding in the City Hall.

The city welfare department is at present housed in the building.

Fossils, Stones Displayed Here

Assembled over a period of years from many parts of the world, W. G. Stalker's collection of fossils and polished stones is now on display at the Provincial Library.

The collection ranges from local beach pebbles to semi-precious gems. Prominently displayed are "thunder-stones" from the ancient volcanic regions of Oregon and California.

Frequently found on the surface of the ground in this area they are oval-shaped lava-encrusted agates, which, according to Indian legends, were weapons used by the thunder spirits of Mount Hood and Mount Jefferson to be hurled at enemies during thunderstorms.

As cut and polished by Mr. Stalker, the agate centres reveal many interesting scenes of landscapes and figures. Other forms of agates displayed are moss and flower agates from Brazil and banded agates.

A colorful spot in the display of the pebbles collected from the beaches of Vancouver Island. Skillfully polished, they reveal a wealth of vivid colors not found in rocks in their natural state. Jasper, cinnabar, bloodstone and semi-precious stones round out the display with petrified wood and fossils.

The exhibition will remain on view at the Provincial Library for the next three weeks.

Bids In For Addition To Library at U.B.C.

Marwell Construction Co. and Bennett & White Construction Co. were the only tenderers on the Provincial Government's contract for additions to the University of British Columbia library building.

Their bids, opened by Works Minister E. C. Carson Monday, were $578,044 and $591,220 respectively.

Lowest tenders received on other contracts in connection with the project were: Heating plant, Fred Welch & Son, $44,127; electrical installations, Hume & Rumble, Ltd., $80,930; plumbing, Fred Welch & Son, $13,474.

How It Started

By JEAN NEWTON

"CAVIAR TO THE GENERAL"
"Caviar to the general" has nothing to do with the military. Not only is the reference not to the army hierarchy; it is, on the contrary, specifically to the ordinary run of human. For "general" here is used in its now obsolete meaning of "the public," "the people."

The sense of "caviar to the general" then, is that of something above the level of the majority, unappreciated by the man in the street, as caviar in the diet.

The original allusion is to the circumstance that the epicurean enjoyment of caviar—the roe of the sturgeon—is cultivated and acquired as a taste for the avocado, and in cases the olive.

We owe the figure of speech to Shakespeare, who gave it to us through the medium of his play "Hamlet," Act 2, Scene 2, in which the Prince of Denmark says:

"The play, I remember, pleased not the million; 'twas caviar to the general."
